

India Fest 2010 - August 15, 2010

"Heritage India"

ICC is proud to announce that it will honor the legacy of Rabindranath Tagore with the "Spirit of Tagore" awards to commemorate his 150th birth anniversary

Considered the greatest writer in modern Indian literature, Rabindranath Tagore was a poet, novelist, educator, musician and artist. He won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1913 for his work "Gitanjali". He was the only man whose songs have been selected to be National Anthems of two countries i.e "Jana Gana Mana" for India and "Amar Sonar Bangla" for Bangladesh. Tagore was awarded the knighthood in 1915, but he surrendered it as a protest against the Jallianwala Bagh Massacre of Amritsar.
